

Hospital Benefit Show at Los Alamitos

Local equestrians are in the final week of preparation prior to displaying their horsemanship at the National Benefit Horse Show, being sponsored by the Long Beach Community Hospital Auxiliary for the sixth consecutive year. Converging on Los Alamitos Race Course beginning Thursday, September 8 and continuing through Sunday, September 11, will be show horses, riders and trainers to compete in the four day annual show.

Mrs. B. Wallace Neumaier, Palos Verdes Estates, who is a member of the Board of Directors of the auxiliary and Chairman of Sponsors for this year's event, reports that this will be the most ambitious show ever presented by the hospital-volunteers.

The 1966 show has been given added lustre with its elevation to an "A" Point Show with the Pacific Coast Hunter, Jumper and Stock Horse Association. Retaining its approval as a "B" show with both the American and Pacific Coast Quarter Horse Associations and continuing to be a Regular Show Member of the American Horse Shows Association, Inc., the show is expected to draw entries exceeding last year, when a record of over 1,000 was set.

An increase in prize money has resulted in still further interest in the forthcoming event. A total of $5,000 will be awarded, including four $500 Stake Classes and eight $125 Open Show Classes, plus trophies and ribbons. In all, 72 classes will be presented including, in addition to Jumpers, Hunters and Stock Horses, classes for children and juniors, Western Pleasure, Trail Horses, Tennessee Walking Horses, Quarter Horses and Shetland Ponies. To keep the show fast paced, Harold Dakan of Tustin, Horse Show Manager, will use two rings simultaneously.

Purpose of this annual benefit, according to Mrs. Hal Sleet, president of the auxiliary, is to raise funds for additional medical equipment to be donated to Long Beach Community Hospital. During the past year a pledge of $35,000 for the purchase of a Cobalt Unit was completed, and $8,000 Auto Analyzer, for processing blood chemicals, was donated and a new pledge of $30,000 was made for the installation of a Nuclear Scanning Camera, for use in nuclear medicine.

Several special attractions will be offered for the further enjoyment of spectators and exhibitors. Crowning of the Horse Show Queen and presentation of the Royal Court will take place on Saturday afternoon. The annual Exhibitors' Party, with free buffet and dancing, will be held Saturday evening from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m. Climaxing the show on Sunday afternoon will be the awarding of the Ward Bond Challenge Trophy to the rider, 17 years and under, who is judged the winner of the Junior Western Pleasure Horse Class. Presentation of this trophy will be made by Frank McGraw who portrayed "Charlie Wooster", the cook, on the former TV program Wagon Train, which starred the late Ward Bond. Announcement of Hi-Point Champions and Reserve Champions will follow the judging of the last class on Sunday. Hours of the show are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day and tickets may be secured from auxiliary members or at the gate on the days of the show.

HOLIDAY TABLE SETTINGS

Carrying out their Jewish Home Beautiful theme, Ner Tamid Sisterhood will have on display at their first meeting of the year, table settings appropriate for holidays on the Jewish calendar. At this Shabbat table, Rabbi Bernard Wechsberg blesses the wine as Mmes. Mitchell Streicher, J. William Finkel and Mrs. Wechsberg look on.

RIDES IN NATIONAL SHOW

Rob Gage, No. 3 Acacia Rd. Rolling Hills, is one of the participants in the National Benefit Horse Show, sponsored by the Long Beach Community Hospital Auxiliary at Los Alamitos track. Beginning tomorrow the show will continue through Sunday, Sept. 11.

'Jewish Home Beautiful' Theme

Sisterhood Opens Year

"The Jewish Home Beautiful" is the theme of an evening of inspirational beauty and delight planned by the Sisterhood of Congregation Ner Tamid to open its new season on Monday, Sept. 12 at the Rolling Hills Methodist Church, Crenshaw Blvd. at Palos Verdes Dr., N.

The presentation will consist of table settings depicting major holidays of the Jewish faith, Rosh Hashanah, Yoni Kippur, Sukkot, Hanukkah, Purim, Pesach, Shavout and Shabbat.

Rabbi Bernard Wechsberg will deliver the invocation and Cantor Israel Krasnoff will enhance the program by chanting an appropriate selection for each of the holidays.

On the planning committee are Mmes. Sidney Colin, Albert Stone, Edward Trabin, Martin Berkowitz, Irving Osofsky, William Berg, Baruch Berman, Martin Surtes, Joseph Meltzer, Esmond Kronick, Arnold Daniels.

Others are Mmes. William Finkel, Mitchell Streicher, Emanuel Diamant, and Leo Persselin. Chairmen for the evening are Mmes. Bernard Wechsberg and Arthur Schoenfeld. Mrs. Morton Farberow is program chairman.

Because of the cultural significance of this program, invitations have been extended to members of neighboring Sisterhoods and to the wives of Peninsula clergymen.

STEP UP TO SISTERHOOD

New and prospective members will be greeted by the new board of the Temple Menorah Sisterhood at its first meeting of the year tomorrow afternoon. Climbing the stairs to the Sisterhood Musicale and Tea are, on the landing, Mrs. Ben Kaufman, chairman, Mrs. Nan Sattan, hospitality chairman, turning to welcome Mrs. David Tanner, decorations chairman, who will carry out the theme "Step Up To Sisterhood."
